Telephone Advice Line:

The purpose of the telephone advice line is to provide advice, support and education for parents/carers.

How does the advice line work?

The advice line is a direct response service. It operates: Monday to Friday from 10am - 12 midday.

To access the advice line, phone the main hospital switch on 01 4096100 and ask for bleep 581 or the neurology nurse.

Only one call can be taken at a time. If your call is not answered the nurse is likely to be on another call. We ask that you hang up and try to phone again later. It is a busy service so please have patience. We take as many calls as possible.

The advice line is a support service and is not intended to deal with emergencies or urgent queries.

If you require urgent medical advice, you must contact your child’s GP, Paediatrician or attend your local Accident & Emergency Department.
When should you call the advice line?

You should call the advice line:

- If your child is experiencing side effects which you feel may be caused by the medication prescribed for your child’s epilepsy or neurological condition.

- If your child is experiencing an increase in seizures or other symptoms associated with their condition.

- If you have concerns about your child’s symptoms or management that need to be addressed before your next appointment

Other relatives or carers may also phone, if parents have given their permission. Confidential issues will only be discussed with parents/guardians.
